Believes Frisch Will Be Marvel as Pivot Man and Coast Star Sensation

McGraw created a furore at the meeting by handing over to the Reds the ever-popular George Burns and M'ke Gonzales in addition to a sum said to exceed $100,000 in exchange for the brillint Heinie Grob and by naying $75,000 for the services of Jimmy O'Camell, of the San Francisco Jub.

"The acquisition of Gr h will give us an infield that will eventually take its pace among the greatest in the history of the game," McGraw declared vesterday. "Of course, I intend to shift Frisch back to second base and to use baseman and I expect him to sureass his previous performances at third. He will be in a position to cover more ground at the keystone because of his remarkable speed, and he will be a big factor on the defense as the sivat man on double rlays. The new infield c mbination will make the fans sit up and take notice."

When asked about the possible acquisition of Eddie Rough McGraw refused to commit himself, but there is a well-founded rumor being circulated to the effect that the star center fieller of the Reds will be seen in the livery of the Giants next seas n. It is possible that a trade that will bring Rough to New York will be effected at the meeting of the National League club owners in this city next week.

McGraw was also enthusiastic about the newly nurchased O'Connell, who will not report to the Giants until the spring of 1923. "O'Connell played a wenderfule me on the Const last season," declared McGraw, "and although he is only nineteen years of age he gives promise of developing into an exceptional player. He has shown great form as a first baseman, but he has also had considerable experience as an cutfielder, and at present I intend to use him in the outfield."

Minor Leagues Want

To Retain Protection Against Majors' Raids

BUFFALO, Dec. 8.—What the minors have as a measure of protection against the raids of the mijors upon their players they will hold. That was the freely expressed orinion among the delegates at the close of the twenty-first, annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues here to-day.

No modification of the "selected player rule" was possible at the minors' convention here, because it is a part of their agreement with the majors that can be changed only at a major-minor confab, and the next one opens in New York next week. If the matter was discussed in to-day's executive session the minors kept their own counsel about it.

The only reaction from the advances of the majors and the appeal of Commissioner K. M. Landis to erganized baseball to find a way out of the woods on the draft question, therefore, can be found in the known attitude of the personnel of the committee of minors named to go to the New York joint meeting.

Neither President T. J. Hickey of the American Association nor President W. H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast League takes kindly to the idea of again letting down the bars to the mejors.

The Big Three

Boxing, baseball and football might be classed as the Big Three of sport in the way of drawing cards, with racing well up in the list.

No matter what the seating capacity, we doubt very much that 91,-000 people would ever pay out as much as $1,500,000 to see any one foot-

But baseball, as a single game card, is now below football, with its cash, color and deeper appeal.

Boxing vs. Football

A heavyweight championship fight that gave prospect of being a whirlwind affair at $3 per non-combatant would fill any stand that would leave a view of the contest.

Coast League takes kindly to the idea of again letting down the bars to the mejors.

President J. C. Toole of the International is of the same mind, but there is said to be some difference of opinion among the members of that organization, and the question will be thrushed out at the league's annual meeting, which takes place before the major-minor conference.

This does not mean that the minors will go to New York dead set against an amendment to the agreement, which, by the way, was made for the lifetime of the association. They are as anxious as any one in the game to find what Commissioner Landis termed a "new fundamental law that would compose the differences in organized baseball." But they are not willing to go back to the conditions governing the draft prior to 1921, it is declared. Louisville won next year's convention.

Manoevre Wins Feature Race In Rainstorm at New Orleans

From a Special Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 8 .- Although five lengths behind at the halfway mark Mancevre, the chestnut gelding bred in France by Herman Duryea, raced to a brilliant victory in a driving rain at Jefferson Park iii this afternoon. Only three horses went to the post in the feature, which was a three-quarter mile affair, for a $1,000 purse. Tody was second and Hobey Baker third.

A big heavyweight international boxing championship would outdraw any other single program beyond question.

Yet football would give even this feature a hard run. Suppose Yale and Harvard came to some season where they stood out as the two greatstootball machines of the country.

Gargan, Graduate Manager, Makes New Requirement for Varsity Candidates

Frank S Gargan, newly aprointed graduate manager of athletics at Fortham, has succeeded in putting through the one-year residence rule for all the candidates for any varsity athletic team. This is the first big step taken by Garran in his attempts to estore Fordhem to its former position in the collegiate world of sports.

The rule according to which only those students who have been students at the Bronx institution for a complete school year will be eligible to play on any varsity team will go into effect immediately. Those, however, who entered Fordham this fall will be exempt from this rule. Any men who enter any de-

No allowance at all will be made to the Maroon spot representatives in either of these two respects. They will be placed on the same grounds with the other students. If there is any sign on the part of any varsity man to slip up on either the attendance of classes or the attainment of his marks he will be dropped from the squad immediately.
